1. About this document

This target market determination (TMD) is for the Spirit Super Transition Pension. Its purpose is to describe the class of member who makes up the target market for this product, having regard to their objectives, financial situation and needs. This TMD also provides distribution conditions for our Transition Pension, together with reporting requirements and information about when the TMD will be reviewed.

This document isn't a summary of our terms and conditions and isn't intended to provide financial advice. Read the Product disclosure statement for Spirit Super pension (known as the Pension guide) available at spiritsuper.com.au/pds when making a decision about whether to start a pension with Spirit Super.

2. Who's the Transition Pension designed for?

Our Transition Pension is designed for those who:

- are aged between their preservation age and 65 and still working
- want to work less but supplement their income from their super, or are seeking a tax-effective income option (for example, re-contributing to super or paying off debt)
- have at least $20,000 to invest in a Transition Pension
- want a regular income payment, at least annually from their account
- want options that suit their changing needs including the ability to:
 - choose from a range of investment options with different levels of expected risk and return and to change investment options at any time
 - choose how much they'd like to receive in income payments each year, as long as it's within the minimum and maximum government limits.
- want flexible options to manage their account, including being able to transact online, over the phone and in writing
- want advice on their account when they need it.

Our Transition Pension isn't designed for members who:

- haven't reached their preservation age and are still working or, are over 65
- have less than $20,000 to invest in a Transition Pension
- want to be able to make lump-sum withdrawals from their pension
- don't want to make choices about their investment options
- want to directly invest into assets or trade on stock exchanges. This includes the ability to direct investments towards specific shares or particular investment vehicles including exchange traded funds, term deposits and other investments.

Product features and key attributes

Our Transition Pension has the following features:

- key attribute: choice of five pre-mixed investment options with different levels of risk and return. Plus four sector options that target specific asset classes to allow members flexibility to determine their own asset allocation
- key attribute: a pension account held concurrently with our super product, so that members can transition into retirement in a tax-effective manner
- it automatically converts to a Control Pension account when the member turns 65
- the ability to nominate beneficiaries to receive all or part of their super payout if they pass away, including through the payment of income to a reversionary beneficiary
- the ability to obtain advice on the Transition Pension
- online access to keep track and manage their super at any time through Member Online
- competitive fees and charges, with a cap on administration fees.

Our investment options

Our investment options are a key attribute of our Transition Pension. Their suitability will depend on the member's risk tolerance, objectives, investment time frame and asset allocation preferences. Our options invest in a wide range of asset classes and assets with varying levels of expected risk, return and investment time frames to suit our broad target market.

Consistency between target market and the product

The Transition Pension provides members with the ability to access some of their super while under 65 years of age and still working, in order to achieve different objectives, such as reducing working hours, contributing to super in a tax-effective manner or paying off debt. In addition, the flexibility of the investment options means members can find an investment option that suits their financial objectives.

This is likely to be consistent with the objectives, financial situation and needs of the product's target market.

3. How will this product be distributed?

Distribution channels

The Transition Pension is designed to be distributed through:

- direct to public – through the Spirit Super website, contact centre and Superannuation Advisers
- financial advisers.

Distribution conditions

The Transition Pension should only be distributed to members who:

- have reached preservation age but are under 65
- are still working
- are seeking access to part of their super each year and
- meet eligibility criteria, including minimum balance requirements.

The Transition Pension shouldn't be distributed to members who:

- haven't reached their preservation age
- are above 65 or
- aren't working.

Adequacy of distribution conditions and restrictions

Distribution in accordance with the distribution conditions and restrictions will ensure that only eligible members will purchase this product. It's likely that these members will fall within the target market for the Transition Pension, as distribution will be directed towards those seeking a regular income stream from super.
